ABSTRACT

The objective of the project Reshade was to clean and restore the Hapugala Scout Campsite. By rehabilitating this neglected public resource, we aimed to provide aa proper place for local scouts to conduct their expeditions and training.

PROJECT NEED ASSESSMENT

Benefiting Community	Local Scouts and Galle Scout Headquarters.
Identified Community Need	The local scouts lacked a safe, functional outdoor environment for their training and expeditions because the Hapugala campsite had become severely overgrown, hazardous, and completely unusable due to neglect.
Service Opportunity	Reclaiming and restoring an existing campsite through extensive cleanup, rather than letting a valuable public asset go to waste.
Mode of Data Collection	Discussions with scout officials during a previous club visit to the Galle Scout Headquarters (during the "Impact Ink" project) and Observation

Project Objective	The objective of the project Reshade was to clean and restore the Hapugala Scout Campsite. By rehabilitating this neglected public resource, we aimed to provide aa proper place for local scouts to conduct their expeditions and training.
Project Description	Project "Reshade" was conducted to restore the Hapugala Scout Campsite, a public asset dedicated to youth development. The need for this project was identified first while we were at the Galle Scout Headquarters for our "Impact Ink" book donation project, in which we donated books to newly established library at Galle scout headquarters Upon learning that the campsite had fallen into a state of total neglect, we decided to reclaim the site to ensure the Scouts, a public non-profit organization, had a safe and functional environment for their activities. The project took place on April 18, 2026. To get everything done on time, we worked according to a plan. First, we trimmed overgrown grass and pruning trees to clear the area. We got rid of the weeds and creepers that had grown up the existing buildings and filled in the burrows to make sure the ground was safe and level. After that, we cleaned the area by scrubbing the walls and clearing it again to make sure the site was fully restored.
