ABSTRACT

Our main goal was to give students a break from their heavy schoolwork and let them focus on their artistic talents. By setting up this competition, we wanted to find the hidden artists in our school and give them a platform to express themselves in a competitive but positive way

PROJECT NEED ASSESSMENT

Benefiting Community	Students from Grades 6 through 11 at Richmond College
Identified Community Need	Because of this academic workload, students rarely get the chance to practice their hobbies or explore their personal interests. There was a clear need for a simple, well-organized, and supportive event that would allow them to take a mental break from schoolwork and focus entirely on their artistic talents.
Service Opportunity	Organizing a dedicated art competition to provide students with a space to express themselves creatively, discover hidden talents, and take a break from heavy schoolwork in a supportive environment.
Mode of Data Collection	Observation of the students' need for a break from their heavy schoolwork and the constant pressure of exams and classes.

Project Objective	Our main goal was to give students a break from their heavy schoolwork and let them focus on their artistic talents. By setting up this competition, we wanted to find the hidden artists in our school and give them a platform to express themselves in a competitive but positive way
Project Description	The "Picasso Art Competition (Phase 02)" was an art event organized by the Centennial Leo Club of Richmond College. We held the competition at the Rajapaksha Stadium to give students from Grades 6 through 11 a dedicated space to show their creativity outside of their usual school routine. Community Need / Requirement:

With the constant pressure of exams and classes, Richmond College students don't always get the chance to practice their hobbies. We saw a need for a simple, well-organized event that would let students focus on art for a day in a supportive environment.

Project Selection / Idea Generation:

We decided on Phase 02 of this competition to keep the momentum going from our previous art project

Planning and Execution:

On April 30, 2026, the project commenced at Rajapaksha Stadium. We handed out standard drawing paper to every participant to keep things fair. Themes were then announced and students were given a set time to finish their work. Our members then walked through the rows, collected the finished drawings, and sorted them

Challenges Identified:

The biggest challenge was managing the crowd and collecting drawings without them getting mixed up.

Solutions Implemented:

We solved this by dividing the stadium floor into sections based on grades. Members were stationed in every section to help the students and keep the event running smoothly.
